

It's your choice.

If you decide you would like to return to a nursing home or your circumstances change, assistance will be available.

DHS: Our vision

We are an organization of opportunity, working hand-in-hand with other resources in Rhode Island to offer a full continuum of services for families, adults, children, elders, individuals with disabilities and veterans.

Our goals

- Families are strong, productive, healthy and independent
- Adults are healthy and reach their maximum potential
- Children are safe, healthy, ready to learn and reach their full potential
- Elders and individuals with disabilities receive a full continuum of services to enhance their quality of life
- Veterans are cared for and honored

Nursing Home Transition Program

For nursing home residents eligible for Medicaid...

...now you have a choice

If you could move home or into the community, would you be interested?

There is a program that can help you make that decision. It's called the Nursing Home Transition Program.

You have a choice. You may be able to leave the nursing home and live at home or in another community setting with services and help provided by the Transition Team.

If you are interested, call us at (401) 462-6393, and we'll be happy to tell you more about the program.

Program at (401) 462-6393

What does the Nursing Home Transition Program do?

If you are Medicaid eligible and if you are interested in the possibility of leaving the nursing home, we will work with you to assess whether you would be able to leave the nursing home.

We will meet with you and your family, if appropriate, to develop a network of services to meet your needs.

If you decide to leave the nursing home, the Transition Team will be with you to make sure that you have the services you need and that the change goes smoothly.

Along with the Transition Team, you may have a case manager in the community who will stay in touch with you and make sure you get the care and services you need.
